In Korea.

Pauley, as a special ambassador for President Truman, visited North Korea in 1946. He said then that the Russians didn't intend ever to get out of Korea.

Today, Pauley was before the Senate Armed, Services committee at a general hearing on Korea.

Chairman Tydings (D-Md) had built up Pauley as a "mystery witness" by declining to announce his identity even to committee members until shortly before the hearing.

After Pauley had finished read-ing a lengthy statement about what he found in 1946, Senator Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) demand-

"If you couldn't do anything short of that, that was my recommendation then and is now," Pauley said. But under further questioning, Pauley said he didn't make any such recommendation in official document.

Pauley repeatedly said he thinks this country should have taken "affirmative action" against Russia.

Meanwhile, the senate finance committee moved swiftly to put the tax bill in shape for quick congressional action.

Tentative Controls Peg Set 2 to 3 Per Cent Food Price Jump

The survey by Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) is the first official government measure of retail prices covering part of the period since the outbreak of the Korean fighting June 25.

Ewan Clague, BLS chief, handed the report to the senate banking committee at a closed meeting today. His prepared statement later was made public.

Clague told the committee that retail food prices aontinued to advance in July mainly because of higher meat prices. He said: "We have completed preliminary checks of food prices in four cities as of July 15. They lead us to expect a total increase of the same general magnitude as from May to June (mid-month in each case)—that is, two to three per cent for food."

Clague said part of the rise was due to "scarce buying and hoarding by some consumers, and part of it, reflects higher raw material arests, like pelfee and sugar, which have been passed on with great rapidity to the consumers."

The banking committee called Clague in connection with its study of whether to set up at least standby authority to invoke wage-price-rationing controls.

Administration forces offered only token opposition as the house adopted by voice vote the cost-of-living amendment offered by Rep. McKinnon (D-Calif). It could reverse its stand later when the economic control bill comes up for roll-call votes.

The McKinnon amendment is similar to one proposed to the senate banking committee by Senator Fulbright (D-Ark, It would put wage and price controls into effect mandatorily whenever the bureau of labor statistics (BLS) living cost index advances five per cent above what it was last June 15.

It would remove the proposed standby authority which would let President Truman decide when to impose wage and price ceilings.

W. Stuart Symington, chairman of the National Security Resources Board, made a special trip to the capitol today to urge senators to give the President a free hand in putting the wage-price-rationing curbs into effect.

The BLS price index covers retail prices of food, clothing, fuel, services, and other necessities of life for molegate-income families in a selected group of large cities. New index figures covering the June 15-July 15 period will not be available until the end of this month. However, Ewan Clague, director of the BLS, gave senators evidence today that the next index will show an increase.

Clague said a preliminary check of retail food prices indicates a general increase of two to three

Korean Reds Power Drive Must Cross Marshes, Lowlands On Drive to Pusan

Two Red divisions, and maybe added elements of a third, are in the southern thrust, which is labelled by General MacArthur now as of "major importance." Much of the tank-led Red force is aimed along the coastline toward Masan. Masan is less than 30 miles west of Pusan, key American port.

Experts call Masan a highway bottleneck. It lies on the west side of a wide bay of the same name. Main highways converge in the town's northern end as one main road, swinging northeastward.

This route runs for 18 miles though flatlands. If the Red tanks get that far they might be confined to the highway by water-filled flanking ground.

As the session began Russia was facing defeat on the question of seating Red China in the UN, and there was speculation this might lead the Russians to a new walkout.

This speculation arose after Russia boycotted a meeting of the UN Big Five Military Staff committee in New York this forenoon.

Some diplomatic circles said this indicated Russia is not yet ready to end her general UN walkout-strike and has only returned to the Security Council for a propaganda blast at the West.

Big Navy Planes Back In Service

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 3.—(IP)
—The navy has put its two largest land planes—the 92-ton Constitutions—on the run between here and Hawaii.

One of the giant passenger-freight aircraft took off from Moffett Field or Barbers' Point naval air station west of Honolulu.

The navy said it will use the Constitutions—each capable of carrying 180 passengers and heavy cargo—for hauling high priority materials and personnel.

The huge four-engine planes are described as the largest commercial-type land planes in the United States. For the first time, the navy is using them for extended overwater duty.

They had been moth-balled recently because of high operating costs. But the Korean crisis brought them back into service.

"That's right," said Erickson cheerfully, "And I'm going to keep right on looking. I have something to come home to."

Long Is Calling Solons Session

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 3—(P)—Governor Earl K. Long said Wednesday that he would call the legislature into special session Saturday night for a seven-day session. The call for the session, he said, will include a revision in the membership of a proposed constitutional convention, and a stock law which would make it illegal for horses and mules to roam on black-topped, asphalt-treated, and paved highways.

The Chamber of Commerce Retail Trade Activities committee Wednesday condemned selfish hoarding—the buying of more goods than one needs.

goods than one needs.

Expressing opposition to possible price controls and rationing, the panel agreed that hoarding can bring this about. However, the merchants were optimistic relative to the economic situation. All indicated they had plenty of merchandise. And the main purpose of the committee is to stimulate business. But hoarding was assailed.

The brief session, held at 2 p. m. in the Chamber offices, attracted only five members out of 22 on the roll. Chairman Bill Smith reported that co-operation among the merchants in putting over the monthly Value Day in Corsicana is very poor.

"Co-operation has been terrible," said Smith.

No other business was attended to, although they decided to make plans for the Christmas program—street lighting and decorations—at the next meeting Sept. 6.

Temperance Legion Will Meet Saturday

Continuing its efforts to teach young people the effects of alcohol on the brain and body, the Loyal Temperance Legion will meet Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. S. Adair Dickson.

At the past meeting Josie Estell, vice-president, was in charge for the program which included rally songs and others representing the various departments of the legion. These are Spiritual Life, Missions, Narcotics and Patriotic. The temperance pledge was repeated, followed by the pledge song. A welcome was extended a new member, Jane Sherrard.

155 Lettermen Due In Camps When Southwest Loop Gridders Open Drills

Southwest Loop Gridders Open Drills
By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor
Just a month away is the start of a Southwest Conference football campaign that could be the best of them all barring an exodus of too talent in the direction of Korea.

One hundred and fifty-five lettermen are slated to begin practice in the seven conference camps
Sept. 1. That mans practically every squad is loaded with experience.
And the freshman crop of last season was exceptionally good.

Texas will go to the post as one of the heaviest favorites for the championship in years. An awesome line and a better balance in backfield material are giving the Longthorns the nod to do what they haven't accomplished since 1945.

Aggie Hopes Higher

Texas A. and M., which hasn't won a conference game in two years is expected to do it this time and to finish somewhere other than the cellar. There are 30 lettermen at Aggieland.

Baylor, with a new coach and an almost brand new team, is being relegated to last place in virtrully every forecast. Coach George

Sauer not only agrees with them but says he's glad to see that everybody recognizes his derth. of talent.

When Adrian Burk and J. D. Ison, one of the greatest passing combinations in conference history, wound up their string at Baylor last fall, it marked the beginning of another era in Bear football, to hear the experts tell it.

When Adrian Burk and J. D. Ison, one of the greatest passing combinations in conference history, wound up their string at Baylor last fall, it marked the beginning of another era in Bear football, to hear the experts tell it.

Baylor, however, does have 20 lettermen and some excellent prospects from the 1949 freshman squad. This just indicates how tough the conference race is expected to be.

The Aggles have the most experienced men back but it is pointed out that 23 of them lettered for the first time last year and that quite a few of those will be replaced by sophomores this season.

year—Raley because he was ineligible and Ochoa because he was a transfer. The Texas line looks like the real difference in the championship race. Other than Arkansas, no team appears capable of giving the Texas wall a strong struggle.

General opinion is that the best lineman in the conference will be Bud McFadin, the 245-pound Texas guard who was one of the finest. Guite a few of those will be replac-ed by sophomores this season.

Arkansas Dark Horse

If there is a dark-horse it's most likely to be Arkansas, which has likely to be Arkansas, which has 25 lettermen. The Razorbacks are four deep at ends, tackles and guard who was one of the finest guards, three deep at center and in the nation last season.

"Yes," Pauley said.
It was in 1947 that Russia barred a UN commission from visiting North Korea to learn what was going on there.
Pauley said his point in coming to the hearing was to make people understand what was happening.
"Senator," he said to Tydings,
"as bloody as the Korean war is,
it may be only the beginning."
Tydings said that both the White House and the Pentagon had asked him to arrange for the committee to head Pauley.
Also present and waiting to testify was Brig. Gen. W. L. Roberts, former head of the U. S. military mission in Korea.
Pauley's 1946 visit to Korea was

"The harsh truth is that the Soviet Union has been a deliberate aggressor."

He added that he would "document this with facts as I go along."

Last week, Pauley called on President Truman. He told White House reporters then that he was in Washington to discuss industrial locations in North Korea with defense department officials. The presumption was that the information was for purposes of strategic bombing.

Pauley also said he had advised Truman in 1946 that the Russians might seek to force Communism on all of Korea.

The task force smashed through the enemy and caught rear Communist elements by surprise. The American engaged the Reds in a roaring road battle and rolled almost into Chinju.

The task force ran a gantlet of machine gun fire all the way. But it captured enemy documents, maps and Russian made equipment. Intelligence officers said these were important finds.

Four Sherman tanks and four armored cars were abandoned.

The Americans withdrew to road positions four miles southwest of Chunjamni and about 40 air miles from Pusan after the Reds closed in behind them and cut off the tanks. The North Koreans stopped the first tank and the last one. The tank crews and most of the armored car crews escaped.

The house demolisher said he thought it would take him about two more weeks to have the Lewis home ready to move. When ready it probably will go north down Fifteenth to Fourth and then west. Local Club Keeps Interest High In Shooting Matches

Competitive shooting, one of the oldest sports in American history and one of the richest in tradition, is being kept alive in Corsicana by a small but devoted organization known as the Corsicana Rifle and Pistol Club.

Though sports such as baseball, football and golf have gained more devotees and spectator interest rifle matches still hold a thrill unmatched to a person who admires a good performance with an excellent firearm.

Approaching the third year of its existence, the local club fires regularly twice a week. Its membership isn't large as yet, but its members are devoted, and they

Bill Lang, public relations officer.

The first year of the club's life was a lean one. Lacking a range on which to shoot, the members held their first match by firing into a levee on the Fortson property near Corsicana. Some hadn't yet secured guns, so they swapped up. Since that time, they have constructed a fine outdoor range five miles west of Corsicana on Highway 31, where they can shoot at all standard distances. For the shorter ranges and for practice they fire at the National Guard Armorv indoor range here by special arrangement. Scheduled firing is on Sunday afternoons and either on Thursday or Friday nights.

is on Sunday afternoons and either on Thursday or Friday nights.

The purpose of the club, besides its recreational value, is to foster the proper use of firearms, including proper methods of shooting, care of the rifle and pistol, and safety regulations. All members of the group belong to the National Rifle Association.

Most of the rifles used in the competitive shooting are small caliber, special-made guns. A telescopic sight is almost a "must." Pistols used are also small-caliber, for the most part, although there is more leeway here.

The Corsicana Rifle and Pistor Club is open for new members, Public Relations Officer Bill Lang has pointed out. "Newcomers are welcome. No expense is necessary, and they can come shoot with us several times to see how they like it," he stressed.

Speaking at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of that group, Walker said that "the farmer of today is a different man from the farmer of 20 years ago. He's different from the head upward."

"In the last 20 years farming has separated a lot of the men from the boys." Walker asserted. He said that most of them, both landowners and tenants, are familiar with all types of cotton insects, with various types of commercial and organic fertilizers, and with various other techniques that in years past were regarded as mere "book learning."

August Schedule Of Auto Industry At Record Levels

DETROIT, Aug. 2—(E)—The auBy DAVID J. WILKIE to factories have scheduled for production in August the largest number of vehicles they ever have built in a single month.
Of course schedules aren't glways filled. Labor disputes often interfere. But most indutsry sources agree the factories have a good chance of completing close to 850,000 cars and trucks this month.
If that figure is realized the industry's eight-months output this year will come to approximately 5,350,000 vehicles. The factories then would have four months in which to produce the additional million units needed to match last year's record-breaking ouput.
This month's assemblies will include some new models besides Kaiser-Frazer's 1951 line already in sizable output. Packard is getting some volume production on its new models and one or two other "independent" makers have scheduled showings of their 1951 cars for midSeptember.
Model changes among the "Big Three" of General Motor Porders

September.
Model changes among the "Big Three" of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler aren't expected to be made until the final weeks of the year and some will not appear until after next Jan. 1. All the companies making up the "Big Three' are rolling out current models at the highest rate in their history and are using just about all the manufacturing capacity they have.

October Draft Call Announced

AUSTIN, Aug. 1—(P)—A Texas draft call for 2,514 men for October has been announced by State Selective Service headquarters.

The call, added to the September quota of 2,513, means Texas must furnish 5,027 men during the first two fall months, State Director Brig. Gen. Paul L. Wakefield said.

Calls for around 2,500 men are expected in both November and December, he added.

Examinations to fill the October call will begin on Aug. 21. Induction dates have not yet been decided.

continued its rampage in Texas last week, striking 107 more persons in 42 counties.

The year's total jumped to 1,395 as the rate of incidence surpassed the 100-mark for the sixth straight week. Texas now has 272 more cases than during the comparable period of 1949, which was a record polio year, State Health Officer George W. Cox reported today.

Four counties reported their first cases of the year last week, bringing to 151 the number which have been invaded by the disease. Only 142 counties had been touched by polio at this time a year ago.

Four counties have suffered more than 100 cases each, accounting for 528 of the state's 1,395 cases thus far.

Hidaigo county in the valley has been hit hardest, reporting 144 cases. Dallas county is next with 130 as a result of its high number of new patients the past week, followed by Tarrant, 127, and Harris 125.

Commission Gets Petitions Asked On Sanitary Laws

Corsicana's city commissioners Tuesday heard arguments pro and con on the enforcement of sanitary ordinances; accepted and filed petions demanding enforcement of sanitary ordinances; passed first readings of two ordinances; listenged to a talk autilining Flux Cross ed to a talk outlining Blue Cross hospitalization, and conducted rountine business. The commissioners also discussed

The commissioners also discussed the possibility of opening the wa-ter line from Chambers Creek to Lake Halbert but after objections were voiced by Water Commis-sioner A. H. Bonner no action was directed.

It was announced by City Engineer. Fred V. Blucher that the line was ready to operate. Commissioner Edgar Rittersacher, Fred Prince and J. E. Davant, as well as Mayor Hubert Braselton expressed a desire to put the line in operation, or at least to have a test run.

Commisioner Bonner said he was opposed to the idea until an extra chlorinator, now ordered, is installed.

"We've been trying to clean up this city for several weeks now and make it a more healthy place to live. If we opened that water line without the extra chlorinator this city hall wouldn't be big enough to hold the people who'd be at our next meeting."

Miss Loreta Gaillard, city sanitarian, also said she believed it safe to wait until the extra chlori-nating equipment was installed. The petitions seeking enforcement of the sanitary laws were signed by more than 600 citizens and Dr. J. Wilson David, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Public Health committe, said several petitions still were out and several had 50 or more signatures on them. Another petition signed by residents in the Fourth avenue area regarding filling in dips on the street was received and referred to the city enginer and street commissioner.

the city enginer and street commissioner.

Miss Mabel Bonner and C. W.
Cox spoke in behalf of the petition and explained there were several bad dips on the street and that these dips were responsible for personal injuries and property damages. City Engineer Blucher said it would cost about $250 to repair each dip and smooth out the street.

R. W. Knight, CC manager and members of the CC Civic Affairs committee appeared before the commission and urged the commissioners to speed up their street marking and street numbering campaign. Knight said the CC was preparing to issue a new city map and said the map wouldn't be much good unles the streets were plainly marked and the houses correctly numbered.

Wilbur Wright appeared before enforcement of sanitary ordinances and said he was backing any and all health programs.

He added, however, that it was more of an educational campaign than one of installing toilet facili-thes.

He pointed out several cases where open toilets had not been properly cleaned by the city, cited cases where inside plumbing had been fouled up and listed conditions which he said were far worse than outdoor toilets.

"The way I see the correction of the health problems of the city," Wrights aid, "is about a 10 per cent equipment program with a 90 per cent educational program."

Less Lucas appeared before the a 10 per cent educational program."

Less Lucas appeared before the commission and said he was willing to close an outdoor toilet on property owned by him and move the buildings off at a later date.

City Atty, Julius Jacobs stated he hadn't singled out any particular individual when he sent letters out last week asking that outdoor toilet conditions be corrected.

He said of the seven he wrote, nearly all have agreed to conform with sewer ordinance or comply in some other manner.

"I'm willing and ready to proceed against any and all violators, and as soon as the conditions are reported to me by the sanitary department I'll take action."

Mayor Braselton said he was

This delegation said most of the citizens in that vicinity were willing to tie on to a sewer line but that there was no sewer line withing feasible distance.

City Engineer Blucher stated a Commissioner Rittershacher West Seventh avenue and South Thirty-fourth street appeared be-fore the commission and cited insanitary conditions in their neighborhood. Their complaints

Commissioner Rittersbacher said he and the city engineer had unofficial bids on ditching contracts covering the new sewer lines and that the estimate was about $57,000.

He stated the city could buy a ditching machine for $17,000, or rent it at $1,095 per month with the option of using the rent money on its purchase if desired. He explained this plan would prove much chaper. He was authorized to rent the machine the machine.

Commissioner Bonner reported the area around Lake Halbert had been cleaned to a great extent and that more improvements were be-ing planned.

Bills in the amount of $20,537.64 were approved and ordered paid.
Reports of the various departments and collections received were read and filed. Collections

The ordinances passed for the first reading were for the issuing of the $300,000 worth of sewer revenue bonds and an amendment to the parking meter ordinance covering the change of meter assessments on Beaton street.

The commission approved a bill of $615 for three members of the appraisal committee who have ben working on a tax survey. J. S. Murchison was paid $210 for 28 days work at $7.50 per day, and $22.50 for car expenses at $3 per day. N. F. Garrett also drew $210, and Roark Montgomery was paid $127.50 for 23 days. Court Will Cash Bonds To Cover Hospital Costs

The commissioners' Court Tuesday voted to cash $50,000 in U. S. treasury notes to pay for three months' work on the new 100-bed months' work on the new lounty Memorial Hospital constructed.

Construction of the project is costing approximately $18,000 to $20,000 a month Auditor Pete Cunningham informed the court. "The cost will get higher as construction progresses," Cunningham said.

In a session highlighted by much action, the commissioners voted to sell five $10,000 seriec C, 1951 treasury notes to pay for estimated costs for June, July and August.

and August.

Also the court approved payment of $8,176,27 for initial work in June. Indications are that the commissioners will not cash the bonds until the money is needed, because of the interest they acquire.

Cost of the modern hospital, including federal aid, will be approximately $1,800,000.

The court ordered that bonds No. 73 and 74 in Road District No. 3, $1,000 each, be called for payment on Sept. 1.

In other action, the court:

There are two classes of news in these columns every day:

(1) Interesting stories about events all over the world; and (2) The advertisements. Yes, the advertisements are news, and in many ways the most important of all, because they affect you more directly and personally than any other.

A new and better method of refrigeration is devised—and you learn about it through advertising. Improvements are added to automobiles which make them safer than ever-again dvertisements carry the story. Styles change in clothing—and advertisements rush the news direct into your homes. A manufacturer finds a way to lower the price on his products—he advertises to tell you about the savings.

You who trade your hard-saved dollars for things to eat - - drink - - and wear - - are attracted by cheerful service, honest quality, and fair prices. To find these -- to choose merchandise designed to satisfy and priced for your profit - - the wise shopper turns first to the advertising columns of the "Home Town Newspaper.

Here, in printed splendor, is the daily record of a nation's commercial progress in detailed description and illustrated. Here, carefully chosen, are the best offerings of the best merchants. It will pay you well to read the news in the advertisements every day and keep abreast of the times.

And if the insects don't grab it all, a bright outlook is seen for yields, labor and picking prices Texas Employment Commission Director W. B. Reedy of the Corsicana office says this area won't have a big problem in getting pickers. There's plenty of local labor available, he indicated.

Reedy reports that some farmers already are scouting around for hands.

Although the price for picking isn't available yet, it's expected to be considerably higher than valley rates. At some points in South Texas they're paying as low as 75c per 100 pounds and up to $1.75. But it is good, clean cotton, picked mostly by Mexicotton, picked mostly by Mexi-

"The grapevine has it that some are already picking," said Walker, "but we're unable to confirm this; and I doubt it."

tween the hairy prophet Elijah and the multitude of priests of Baal, which is the Sunday school lesson. for today.

A Great Womans' Gift.

The background is the steep southern end of Mt. Carmel overlooking the valley of the Kedron—a perfect setting for the mighty conflict. One of Palestine's most honored women is Dame Frances E. Newton, long a resident of Mt. Carmel. Several years ago she purchased all the land that was the scene of this historic struggle—including the perennial spring at the foot of the mountain. When stable government comes she will present the reservation to the people.

Some day, let us hope, travellers may have the experience of studying this site at the foot of the 12-mile mountain.

Central in the due of the best told tales in all literature. Then Elijah, when the priestly flasco was finished carefully built an altar out of twelve the stones representing the twelve the priests of Israel, placed thereon water over the whole of it and the purchased all the land that was the scene of this historic struggle—including the perennial spring at the foot of the mountain. When stable government comes she will present the reservation to the people.

old testament prophets, whose crowned when he along with Moses, was sent to keep a rendezvous with Jesus on the Mount of Transfiguration. At the very outset of our study, let us bear in mind the ultimate triumph of Elijah, "The end proves all."

God's Mighty Prophet.

This man, Elijah the Tishbite, a sojourner in Gilead, emerges suddenly upon the scene. We are left in ignorance of his antecedents and background. What foroces shaped him into this mould of audacious heroism?

We do not know. If we had the recipe or program we would turn it over to the Christian youth especially to the young preachers of our day. For another Elijah would be worth more to the contractions of the contraction o pecially to the young preachers of our day. For another Elijah would be worth more to the country than carload lots of politicians and professional "experts." There were many men in Israel better equipped for public service by training and experience. His one great qualification was that he knew God. Therefore, he had a deep intolerance for sin. He cared, above all else for the honor of Jehovah, and his king-rights. In Eljah's day the great Jewish apostacy was represented by King Ahab, whom Jezebel his wife stirred up. Together they led the people into every form of degradation and shame.

A Suggested Trial.

Suddenly, in the narrative, the uncouth prophet Elijah appeared before the king and predicted three years of drought. We today can scarcely imagine the proportions of such a colembity as before the king and predicted three years of drought. We to-day can scarcely imagine the proportions of such a calamity as long drought among a people living precariously on the edge of the desert. When the nation stands face to face with death after three weterless years Elijah suddenly appears before king hab and suggests a contest between himself and the priests of Raal to be held on the slopes ? Mount Carmel, Elijah directs Ahab to gather all Israel at Mt. Carmel, along with the four hundred and fifty priests of Baal and the four hundred priests of Asherah, that the fundamental issue might be put to a test before all the people.

The challenge issued by Elijah was something which neither king, queen nor priests could decline.

In all the great mass of world literature there is no more dramatic hero-tale than the duel between the hairy prophet Elijah and the multitude of priests of Baal, which is the Sunday school lesson for today.

Only One Way Out.

Elijah's solution of the nation's problem was a religious solution.

He did not make studies and col-He did not make studies and collect statistics; he called for the fire of God to descend and to consume evil and to burn with a new holy purpose in the hearts of the seven thousand who had not bowed the knee to Ball.

Bring this story into modern life and it teaches a mighty lesson. Only God who consumes, illumines, and warms can bring to the human heart and to a distraught world the cure of its allments and the promise of a better day. Religion alone has the answer to our deepest needs. the answer to our deepest needs. SEVEN SENTENCE SERMONS. They fail, and they alone, have not striven.—Aldrich.

But it still takes some effort, and perhaps more so for one who is just a so-so dancer. Jimmy danced last six years ago and he admits he is a bit out of shape.

"I started training for this picture last November," he said. "I worked out in heavy sweat shirts so I could lose some weight, too."

Versatility is what keeps actors alive. After two pictures in which he played psychological killers, Jimmy felt it was time for a change. In addition to the ballet, he does a routine that has all the earmarks of a Danny Kaye specialty.

For World Today

Rotarian ideals, which foster rust and confidence between peo-ple and which create good will, can pie and which create good will, can set the pattern for world fellow-ship, said J. P. lowship."

He said, "If this world ever needed a pattern of fellowship to follow it certainly needs it now. There's distrust between nations and within the nations. It's time to throw off the shackles of distrust and time to act like Americans and world citizens."

The speaker said the Rotary tern needs to be followed by everyone.

Introduced at the noon session were Past District Governors Leland Long, Mineola; Johnnie Pickens, Athens: Nelson Hawkins, Itasca: Charles Patton, Cleburne, and Graham, John C. Calhoun, Corsicana, made the introductions. Other visiting Rotarians were Pete Anderson, Stamford; Sterling H. Flynt, Waxahachie; John Jackson, San Diego; W. W. Hunt, Baytown, and Paul Hudgins, Temple, All delegates to the assembly also attended the meeting. Guests were R. W. Knight and Jim B. Robinson, both of Corsicana.

Special music was provided by

Temple, and Pickens,
Two panel discussions were held during the afternoon. One was for presidents and the other for secretaries. Curtis Keen, Corsicana, headed the presidents' group, and Fred Lewis, Belton, was in charge of the secretaries' discussions.
A panel discussion for both groups was led by Long, Others on this panel were W. E. Abbas, Cleburne: G. V. Brindley, Jr., Temple, and Algy Stroud, Fairfield, Gov. Dillard made the closing remarks.

car, Graf improved his new possession wit haround 500 in fancy gadgets, including an overdrive.

Last week, while Graf was working on a highway construction crew, a Texas Ranger and a State Highway Patrolman came along and confiscated the car—which Graf was—and still is—paying on. They explained to him that it had been stolen a year ago in Detroit. "You figure you're getting along pretty good and—wham!—all of a sudden the bottom drops out." Graf told the Hereford Brand.

CHICAGO, Aur. 3.—(P)—An early runup in grains failed to hold on the Board of Trade.

Small-scale commission house buying gave the market its chief support during the first hour, but once this dried up everything turned around and sank back to around previous closing prices.

Local traders watched Washington developments closely, particularly in regard to price cellings. Late in the session news arrived that the house had tentatively approved making wage and price controls mandatory when the government's costof-living index advances 5 per cent above the June 15 level.

This news had practically no effect on price trends.

Holliday creek was "holding its own" but was expected to start rising again as water backed up from the Big Wichita.

There were no reports of deaths or injuries. No houses had been washed away.

Mayor Jones said he based his "million dollar estimate" on the number of residential and business structures inundated and the damage to streets and utilities.

Rotarian Ideas Offered As Ideal

Presidents and secretaries and past district governors converged on Corsicana Wednesday. Fifteen clubs were represented by more than 50 delegates, Morning sessions were held in the Ideal Theater and the noon luncheon and afternoon meetings were held in the Navarro Hotel.

The subject of Graham's talk, made at the noon meeting, was "Rotary—World Pattern of Fellowship."

The speaker said the Rotary pattern supplies the answer to world fellowship but that the pat-tern needs to be followed by ev-arouse morbid emotionality in children were termed without objection.

There were other comics set aside as being with some objection in this field because of over realistic portrayal of death of villains; grotesque, fantastic or unnatural creatures, and imminent death of a hero or heroine.

Violence Ruled Out.

Classed as objectionable were those containing the kidnaping of children or women or the implication of it; characters shown bleeding, particularly from the face or mouth; the use of chains, whips or other cruel devices; the picturization of dead bodies; stories and pictures that tend to upset children: anything having a sadistic implication: portrayal of mayhem, acts of assault or murder; or people being attacked or injured by animals or reptiles.

The foregoing criteria were set points in the evaluation of comic books, rather than as complete standards.

Listed in the category of no objection were the following: About People, Action Comics, Actual Romances, A Date With Judy, Adventure Bound, Aggie Mack Comics, Alice in Wonderland, All Humor Comics, Shoty Shelby Comics, Roots and Herburd, All Humor Comics, Bobby Shelby Comics, Boots and Herburd, All Humor Comics, Bobby Shelby Comics, Boots and Herburd, All Humor Comics, Bobby Shelby Comics, Boots and Herburd, All Comics, Bobby Shelby Comics, Boots and Herburd, Also Comedy Comics, Comics, Actual Romances, All-Time Sports Comics, Andrew Panda, Archie Comics, Barnyard Comics, Bobby Shelby Comics, Boots and Herburd, Also Comedy Comics, Comics, Actual Romances, All-Time Sports Comics, C

Marines Seeking

The U. S. Marine Corps is the only branch of our Armed Forces that can offer eligible young men an opportunity for service on land, at sea, or in the air, stated Sergeant R. L. Towery, of the Waco Marine Recruiting Office.

Sergeant Towery will visit the Corsicana Post Office every Tuesday between the hours of 9:30 a.m. to 3:00 p. m., to interview young men for enlistment in the Marines.

Men who volunteer with the Marines may be assigned duty aboard capital ships of the Navy which travel to many far places of the world. Or, they may be assigned to aviation units which are based at Cherry Point, N. C., and El Toro, California.

Men assigned to the ground forces will serve with one of two famous Leatherneck divisions. The First Division is located at Camp Pendleton, Calif., while the Second Marine Division is at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

Men unable to contact Sgt. Towery each Tuesday at the Corsicana Post Office, may contact his main office located in Room 207, Post Office Building, Waco.

Triplets Born To Negro Couple

Triplets—two girls and a boy—were born to a negro couple at the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic here about 6 clock Wednesday morning, hospital officials announced.

The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Newsome of 1518 Kerr street, Corsicana. Besides the new arrivals, the couple have four children.

Attendants said the triplets were "doing fine." The girls weighed 3 pounds 8 ounces, and 3 pounds 15 ounces, and the boy 4 pounds 8 ounces.
The father is employed at the Southland Cotton Oil Company here. He is 37 and his wife is 30.

Mrs. Jessie Forbes, president, was in charge of the meeting of the Navarro Baptist WMA Monday afternoon at the church.
Minutes were read by Mrs. Cliff Thomason, and Mrs. Carrie Harvard conducted the lesson. Mary Ann Fouty and Karen Collier gave readings.

Moore will conduct the devotional, and Mrs. Rose Fouty will have charge of the lesson.

Mmes. Newt Horn and H. B. Fouty will have charge of the next monthly program.

LEADERSHIP SCHOOL WORK Sanitary Controls DESCRIBED TO COUNCIL OF WESTMINSTER PRESBYTERIAN

In a conversational discussion Mmes. Jack Morrell and Eugene Stewart presented to the Woman's Council of Westminster Presbyterian church in a Monday meeting facts concerning the Park Summer Leadership Training School at Park College, Parkville, Mo., July 10-21.

Mrs. Morrell, program chairman, and Mrs. Stewart were two of a group of delegates to the training conference, conducted by the Board of Christian Education of the Pres-of Christian Education of the Presbyterian Church, USA.

Other delegates were Mrs. Matthew H. Arnold and Miss Winifred Schaumburg, newly appointed religious education director of the church succeeding Miss Beverly Muetzel.

Through their discussion Mmes.
Morrell and Stewart related how the four delegates went to the Missouri college to study curricula to be studied in all departments of the Sunday School in relation to the theme, "The Church in Christian Faith and Life."

Mrs. Stewart studied courses for beginners and primary departments, Mrs. Morrell for junior and senior high school, Mrs. Arnold for adults and Miss Schaumburg for directors of religious education.

The delegates recommended a study booklet on the general theme,
to be found in the church library.
In a resume of their activities, school Is Unique.

Founded in 1876, the institution is unique in that all of its students completely or partially pay their way by their own work. The minimum employment is twelve hours weekly. A four year college, it offers accredited courses and degrees. The Community Church was used for primary and beginner department work. Junior and senior High school workers met in the high school workers met in the high school gymnasium. Adult courses and evening vespers were on the college campus.
